Goal Attainment Strategies for the Agile Workplace

How does your organization attain goals? What's your completion track record?

We know that setting Specific, Measurable, Attainable, Relevant, Time-Bound goals improves your chances of goal attainment. We spend countless hours defining the goal and building endless tools to measure performance upon completion. Yet, when it comes to achieving the goal we rely on will power, pep talks, rewards and punishments. ODScore® believes that there are specific tools you can use to improve goal attainment within your organization.

Level Up will help your organization to attain goals by providing your employees with tools to overcome natural human tendencies. This workshop will help your employees to understand that humans are less likely to accurately estimate the time and effort involved in achieving a goal, the more complex the goal is.

Participants in this workshop will:

1. Learn methods for reliably meeting goals:
 - Identifying problems with traditional goal setting practices
 - Understanding the brain science around goal attainment
 - Establish clear priorities
 - Defining goals and breaking down tasks
2. Staying focused on what matters most to the customer
 - Understanding different customer profiles and needs
3. Building a portfolio of success practices
 - Recognizing and harnessing core motivations
 - Strategies for sustaining positive change

Level up develops the mindset and skillset that makes you successful in continuous change.
